

Interior Health

Medical Health Officer Southern Interior of British Columbia

Enjoy the satisfaction of a rewarding leadership career with Interior Health. We are looking for a Medical Health Officer (MHO) to join our Population Health team and contribute to and enable the health and well-being of the residents living in BC's interior region.

Medical Health Officers (MHOs) are responsible for assessing, monitoring, and reporting on the health status of persons living in the Interior Health (IH) region. They are also responsible for administering various BC statutes and regulations relevant to protecting the health of the population. MHOs provide strategic and tactical support to senior leadership in the development, planning, implementation and evaluation of public health programs both regionally and within each of the local health areas. They provide clinical consultation and advice to health professionals in both acute and community settings, and work collaboratively with internal and external stakeholders to support healthy public policy.

Reporting to the Chief MHO with oversight from the Provincial Health Officer (PHO), MHOs are designated by the Lieutenant Governor of BC under Order in Council.

With both geographic and program responsibilities, this position can be located in any of the beautiful communities within the Southern Interior of British Columbia, and as a top 100 BC Employer, we also offer one of the best benefits packages in Canada!

Qualifications:

- Medical Degree (MD) with current (or eligible for) full registration and licensure to practice medicine from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of BC
- Fellowship in Public Health and Preventive Medicine from the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada
- Master's degree in Public Health, Health Sciences or equivalent post-graduate training
- Two years of experience in progressively more complex and senior medical administrative or public health leadership roles
- BC Driver's License for travel as required within and between our geographically distributed communities

Apply Now

Jobs.InteriorHealth.ca

